FALLEN TIMBER

(From Our Own Correspondent)

We are very sorry to hear that Miss Dorothy Starr is in hospital with pneumonia and that her father is also in for a minor operation. We hope they will soon be home again.

The regular Ladies' meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Janet Fyten with seven members and one visitor present despite the snow. It was decided to hold a TV tea in the evening of April 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fyten, with a 10-cent charge proceeds to go to the Busy Bees. It was also decided to raffle a 30 piece set of dishes. A draw was held with the visitor Mrs. Johnson the winner. Mrs. R. L. Howton was the lucky drawer. The spring is once again with us if it is any indication of it. Despite the road ban some thoughtless truckers have made such deep ruts in the road that the Motorists' plea that it is almost impossible for the average car to travel over.

We are sorry that Mrs. W. Fyten and Gay have not been to well. The flu bug is certainly making the rounds in the district.

Mr. B. Money, Mrs. Janet Fyten and Mr. J. Howton and Mr. P. Lait, and Mr. Pat McGuffin transported the teacher and pupils to the Music Festival held in Cremona on Friday. Everyone enjoyed the programme very much. Our school put on a choral speech, group song, and Katherine Fyten, Danny Howton, and Mickey Whittle gave recitations, and very well too. Thanks to all those giving such good entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Howton, Dan and Jeannie and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore, Judy and Brian, took in the play and variety program at Rugby last Friday evening and had a real enjoyable time.

Miss Jeannie Howton spent Friday visiting at the home of Judy and Brian Moore.

Rev. H. Moutter of Seattle will be next speaker Easter Sunday at the Fallen Timber church at 11:00 a.m. Everyone welcome.

Johnston of Hartmann, songs by Larry Krebs, Nola Youngs and Donna Dubois and Elmer Youngs, violin solos by Mrs. Armstrong, piano duet by Carol Krebs and Audrey Luft, and the play by members of Rugby W. I., all was well received by the appreciative audience.

Those taking part in the play were Mrs. B. Smith as the dark servant, Mrs. L. Krebs, the reporter, and Mrs. Alex Blain, the wife. The three old maids hunting husbands were Mrs. P. Hoesgood, Mrs. G. Ray and Mrs. A. Vipond, and the bachelors they finally married were Mrs. Alfred Gowitz, the fat one with black mustache, Mrs. R. McNaughton, with elvin whiskers, and Mrs. D. Hoesgood, clean shaven. Rev. F. W. Snyder was the officiating minister. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in an afternoon gown of white nylon tulle over taffeta with a shoulder length veil to match and carrying a bouquet of tansies roses.

Mrs. Kenneth Gee of Calgary as matron of honor wore a gown of tulle over taffeta, her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Herbert Shaw of Airdrie attended the groom and Mr. Kenneth Gee of Calgary was usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Brentwood Room of the Empress Hotel. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Stanley Hyde to which the groom fittingly responded.

After a honeymoon trip to points south the happy couple left for Hamilton, Ontario where they will reside.

What Other Papers Say . . .

Sharp criticism of the Gerhart policy exhibited in the 1955 provincial budget is expressed in THE WETASKIWIN TIMES. "Public approval of the increased grants will not be extended to the method in which they are to be paid. The tax reduction strings placed on the grant by the government are merely another attempt to meddle in local affairs. This is a Gerhart touch which is reminiscent of the small thinking in the Department of Municipal Affairs during his tenure as Minister. Mr. Gerhart contributed more confusion than anything else to the administration of municipal affairs with his pet 'formulas' for the distribution of grants."

"Surely we can take care of our own local affairs without the constant intervention of the provincial government. The men and women we elect to administer our municipal affairs are not morons. Any one of them might just as easily have been elected to the provincial legislature as to the council or school board and might even have been appointed to cabinet had they chosen the provincial field for their political interests. They are a group of people who in no way need the supervision and direction of conditional grants which are just another means of dictatorship in local affairs by the provincial government."

"This attempt to hold school tax rates to a minimum of 25 mills is somewhat incongruous from a government which, on the other hand, allows a school board to borrow up to $100,000 from government funds without reference to ratepayers. Mr. Gerhart will never learn, it seems. His experience with conditional grants to municipalities is one of failure several years ago when mill rates and assessments were juggled to meet the conditions and, finally, forced their removal."

The confusion of Americans about Canada is illustrated in this story from THE STRATHMORE STANDARD:

Two American transport drivers were taking a cargo into Canada for the first time. Late in the evening they stopped in a fair sized city, parked their truck and entered a roadside diner. As they sat down at the counter a very cute waitress approached them.

"What town is this," asked one of the drivers.

"Saskatoon, Saskatchewan," sang

Teach Them To Learn . . .

"The last thing I desire for my children, says Ralph Allen, editor of Maclean's Magazine, is they shall ever consider themselves educated at the end of a dozen years' faithful attendance at an institution which will spend more time teaching them how to make bird houses than it will spend in teaching them the political history of their own country. If children should lose their curiosity anywhere this side of sensibility then someone, their school teachers or their parents, or they themselves, or more likely all three, have botched the job of beginning their education."

out the waitress.

The driver turned to his companion, "This is a helluva mess. They don't even speak English here."

Goals are essential to THE PRESS-COTT JOURNAL, Ontario. "With few exceptions, most of our successful citizens are men and women who have achieved their goal by diligent and painstaking effort. Of course, they first decided in a goal, for without an object, one might as well walk on a treadmill."

ABOUT THE HOME

"I want you to ride out and see the beautiful new home I have bought," a friend recently told me.

"Knowing him well, I cautioned: 'Friend, you don't buy a home. You buy a house and then you build the home.'"

No home ever rises above the level of the woman who lives in it.

As the years roll by, I am more and more convinced that home is not an institution: it is an ideal.

Coronet

There's no point in going back looking for the lost opportunity. Someone else has already found it.

A reindeer walked into a bar and ordered a Scotch and soda. The bartender served him, and took a dollar out of the five the reindeer plunked down.

"Pardon me," said the bartender. "I hope you don't mind me mentioning it, but it's sort of interesting. I don't think we've ever had a reindeer in here before."

"No," said the reindeer indignantly, as he stowed away his change. "And you're not likely to see another—not at these prices."

The busy executive asked his secretary where his pencil was.

"It's behind your ear," she replied. "Come, come," snapped the Big Shot. "I'm a busy man. Which ear?"

The boy was sitting on the steps as the brush salesman approached. "Hi, sonny! Mother home?"

"Yep."

The salesman knocked but nobody came to the door.

"Look, sonny, I thought you said your mother was at home."

The boy looked at the salesman a moment, then looked away as he said: "I don't live here."

One old Texas couple had lived together happily for 50 years—until the wife began reading "health hints" in the newspaper, and decided coffee was bad for her husband's digestion. Day after day she nagged him to give up the habit, but without success. Finally, exasperated, she told him: "Hank, if you don't quit drinking coffee, I'll leave you!" He looked at her in bewildered silence for a full minute, then replied sadly: "Honey, I'm really gonna miss you."

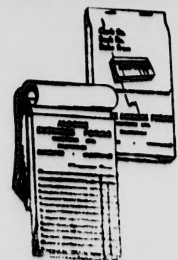

When Robert Emmet was being executed, peasants for miles around gathered in the gray dawn to kneel in prayer for the great Irish patriot. One old woman happened to kneel in the path of an English guard and he bumped her out of the way with his knee.

A British captain helped her to her feet and bawled out the soldier for his lack of respect for the poor woman's devotion. She looked up at the officer and said: "Thank you, sir. If there is a cool spot in Hell, I hope you get it."

Canadian Cancer Society statistics show that more than 50 Canadians die of cancer each day.

Miracle of Easter

Mary Magdalene brings amazing news to the apostles John and Peter as she tells them that Christ's body is no longer in the tomb where He was buried.

The world has only one certified religion, only one religion that bears the signature of heaven, and that is the religion of Jesus Christ. The miracle of the first Easter is God's own signature, attesting the validity of every claim and every promise which Jesus Christ has made.

He had claimed that He was in truth the very Son of God. He had claimed that He would lay down His life for the sins of the world and would rise again on the third day.

He had promised that all who would repent of their sins would trust in His death for their redemption would be assured of a place in

His "Father's House" above.

Did He have the right to make these promises? Did He have the power to fulfill them? The miracle of Easter shouts a loud affirmation: "He was declared to be the Son of God—by the resurrection from the dead."

Christians throughout the world rejoice in the knowledge that they are worshipping, not a dead prophet, but a living Christ, a Christ who is eternal in the heavens, a Christ whose Easter resurrection stands unique and unassailable as the signature of heaven.

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

This last week was an eventful one in our household. We went for an airplane ride for the first time in many years. The air was calm, clear and mild, and the visibility unlimited. As we cruised along, apparently idling, we were pursued by a rapidly moving shadow on the earth beneath. Familiar scenes looked very different from an "upstairs" point of view.

The family farms, road allowances, fences and railways all told of the interfering hand of Man and his determination to measure, cultivate and subdue the world around him. Yet even on the cultivated fields there was abundant evidence of Nature forcing man to move according to the obstacles. On some fields the combine left neatly parallel lines while on others small pools of water had to be skirted, and both in the intricate patterns. Deep coules, gulches, creeks and rivers also had said to the works of Man: "Thus far and no further."

The Christian view of the world, like that from an airplane, puts familiar things in a new and sometimes astonishing perspective. Everyone who views the life and work of humanity from the top of Calvary will find a view grander, wider and more awe-inspiring than anything seen from a merely surface level. To look up at the Cross is good. To climb towards the Cross is even better, but to be uplifted by the Cross is best of all. Rightly understood, "it solves for us all earthly mysteries, and has thus far advanced us to be wise."

It gives meaning to life, dignity to death, and power to overcome human weakness.

Good Friday, with its anguish, darkness and pain is followed by Easter, the Cross by the Crown. The empty tomb and the empty tomb have in themselves no power to fill the empty heart. Only the Resurrection is the assurance and hope that we too can rise.

Someone has noted that "Christians don't explain the Resurrection but it is the Resurrection which explains the Christians." The solemn theme of the Crucifixion gives place to the triumphant declaration: "He is not here. He is risen."

On Good Friday and on Easter both the convinced and the casual will want to look up to the heights, wishing that we could rise up on wings. Those who do take up return eventually to earth, but the scene of their daily work is surrounded by wider horizons and better knowledge of the sense of an Everlasting Mercy and an Eternal Purpose.

CAN'T BLAME THE BOMB

Just when a lot of people with short memories had convinced themselves that the atom bomb was responsible for all our bad weather, along comes the head of the British weather service and suggests that they had better take heed. Sir Graham Sutton says there isn't a shred of proof to back their theory.

Cancer And The 'H' Bomb

In a hydrogen bomb attack on an unidentified Canadian city of over 1,000,000 population, 49% would escape death if they received advance warning and took precautions. This estimate was made a few months ago by Civil Defense Administrators.

In an attack by cancer—the nation's No. 2 killer—Canadians have a 50% chance of escaping death if they receive warning and obtain early adequate treatment. So Canadian Cancer Society statistics indicate.

We are informed that the government is experimenting with a warning device that could be installed in a bedroom and be set off by a change in electric current if enemy bombers approached, and that within two years an elaborate detection system would be able to warn target cities from two to six hours ahead of an enemy bomber raid.

The Cancer Society is conducting a year-round, nation wide programme to apprise the public of the warning symptoms of that disease, and how vital it is to have prompt medical attention, so that the present high death toll from this cause may be steadily cut down.

Cancer often gives early warning by one of the seven common danger signals which can be easily observed by people generally. But to detect some of its sneak attacks in an early stage the observers must be physicians.

Millions of dollars are being spent by the government for super-nature jet planes and guided missiles of tremendous power, as a defense against hydrogen or atomic bomb air raiders.

In contrast, the Cancer Society is seeking the comparatively modest total of $2,000,000.00 in its annual educational and fund-raising crusade, while preparing for a knockout offensive against cancer by supporting research and stimulating discovery of new, more effective medical weapons, against cancer.

We feel sure no one in this community will want to shirk the opportunity to contribute and thus play a part in continuing the national Society's campaign to control this deadly, aid patients, and carry on both professional and public education about cancer and the possibilities of cure for sufferers.

The Canadian Cancer Society has allocated $850,000 for cancer research this year.

"Fecular" weather, he points out is not a new development since the explosion of the atom bomb.

If we come to look back, we will certainly find that they have been up and down in Canadian weather, too, long before we heard of or dreamed of atom bombs. There was the all-time record cold wave which hit Central Canada 20 years ago, and killed so many of our apple trees and roses. There was the record heat of a summer or two later, and the big snow of 1944-45. We probably blame a lot of things on these freaks, but we couldn't blame the bomb.

Rabies: Recently we have been receiving reports about numerous incidents of wild life being infected with rabies. This applies mostly to districts in the north. Between January 1st, 1955 and March 28th, 1955 the heads of 20 animals have been reported as positive for rabies by the Federal Veterinary Research Laboratory, Lethbridge.

Nine of these were coyotes, three dogs, two cattle, four pigs, one cat and one fox. It is safe to assume that the dogs, cattle and pigs were likely all bitten by rabid coyotes. The Peace River block sent in 14 of the heads, 4 came from Barriere district, and 2 from other northern points.

The disease is transmitted by the bite of the rabid animal. The virus is present in the saliva and is introduced through the bite wound. It follows the nerve trunks to the spinal cord and brain. Thus, a bite on the nose or the lips is especially dangerous as the virus has a very short distance to travel to the brain.

Seasons and weather have no effect on the spread of rabies, except to force wildlife into settlements for food during winter. On February 20th, 1955 a pig in the Spirit River district began to act strangely. It began staying by itself and appeared afraid of people. It would not eat and also moved backwards continually. Just prior to death it became blind and crippled and died February 23, 1955.

As coyotes are the main wildlife spreaders it can be seen that efforts must be maintained and increased to keep coyote population very low.

IN WONDERLAND

He was just a little fellow with the star-glow in his eye.
 His world was all a playground, filled with wonder and surprise.
 There was kindness all about him.
 He was very sure of that.
 For even passing strangers stopped to give his head a pat.

He didn't have a rival, and he didn't have a care.
 He knew but smiling people, for he met them everywhere.
 He hadn't heard of failure or of sorrow's ache and pain.
 And life had yet to teach of such things as loss and gain.

He gave his heart to people, were they yellow, black or white.
 He was just a little fellow, scarcely knowing wrong from right.
 So I patted him when passing, and wished that I could be
 As merry and light-hearted and unprejudiced as he.
 —Edgar A. Guest.

The Season Ahead

When spring comes around each year there seems to be an irresistible temptation to attempt predictions of crop production for the ensuing season. These efforts at prophecy, however, are for the most part pure guesswork. The outcome of grain crops depends on weather conditions, and weather forecasting in the prairie provinces of western Canada is a most uncertain undertaking.

Long-range weather experience in the prairie regions shows that dry and wet cycles, follow each other at regular intervals. There is a substantial acreage centering on southwest Alberta and southwest Saskatchewan which is more subject to severe drought than other parts of the prairie regions. In recent years this particular region has been favored with ample and timely rainfall and it is from there that the extra-heavy production of grain has come. No one can say whether this coming season will be dry or wet.

At the present time sub-soil moisture appears to be above normal on summerfallow land in almost every district in the province of Alberta. Last autumn was exceptionally dry. In the Calgary district only 1 inch of rain fell from September to December inclusive and that in the first few days of September. Nevertheless, abundant rains during August provided a substantial moisture reserve. In that month the rainfall from April to early part of September was 16.8 inches.

It would seem, therefore, that crops should have ample moisture to provide a good start. The final outcome depends on the abundance and timeliness of rainfall in the latter part of May and in the month of June. A drouthy June always spells disaster to growing crops.

This coming season Alberta farmers will probably seed 12,830,000 acres to grain of which a little over 6 million acres will be to wheat. The barley acreage will total around 3,000,000, an increase of 347,000 acres over last year. It is estimated that about 2,640,000 acres will be planted to oats, an increase of 286,000 acres. The growing crop will have to run the risks of drought, hail and insect pests before harvest time comes. Notwithstanding the surplus situation, particularly with wheat, the general hope is for a good crop in 1955.

Results of surveys made for the Canadian Cancer Society shows that about two of every five Canadian adults still do not know cancer is curable.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

This is the season of the year when everyone is busy setting farm machinery in good condition for the coming season of field work.

The Department of Agriculture through the Olds School of Agriculture will hold an Oxy-acetylene Welding Short Course. This course will be at the school and on the following dates April 14th, 15th and 16th.

Three instructors will be present and groups taking this course will be divided according to previous experience so all will gain from taking the course. Classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the above dates.

Many people may be more interested in electric welding, but it will be realized that the information obtained with gas welding as to the materials you work with can readily be applied to electric welding, therefore, the course will be of a benefit to everyone who does or plans to do any welding.

Registration fee for the course is two dollars, accommodation will be available at the school at very nominal rates including meals and room.

I believe this course will be of a great value to everybody who does participate in it.

Due to limited facilities the first 30 applicants will be accepted.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

God's healing and redemptive power will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, Death Real?" at Christian Science services this Sunday. Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (103:2-4): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His goodness: who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies."

The present availability of God's goodness and power will be brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (472: 24-30 All): "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

ALBERTA'S PIONEERS

For their contribution to Alberta's Fifty Golden Years, all pioneers who were in the Province at the time of its establishment in 1905 or before, will be presented with Senior Citizen Scrolls, upon application. The name will be hand written on each scroll by an artist.

Who May Apply:

All persons who have been in residence in the province since the year 1905 or prior; may apply for a Senior Citizen Scroll. A short period of absence does not disqualify you.

How To Apply:

Application must be made for scrolls. Forms are now available at Municipal Offices in each district or from the Jubilee Committee. Completed application form are to be sent to the Committee (address below).

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS - Aug. 1, '55

To enable the Jubilee Committee to prepare and distribute the scrolls your cooperation is requested. Completed applications must be received by August 1, in order that distribution may begin by August 22.

Distribution of Scrolls

The majority of scrolls will be mailed from the Jubileefice to the applicant, but communities wishing to be responsible for distribution at special presentation ceremonies, even prior to August 22, are requested to prepare a list of eligible citizens and ensure that application forms are submitted well in advance of the date scrolls are required.

Senior Citizen's Day

DISTRICT NEWS

In The Legislature M.V.B.C. NEWS

By DONALD F. SMITH

EDMONTON—The effects and ramifications of the events which occurred with machine-gun rapidity in the Alberta legislature last week probably will not be known for some months.

As a result of evidence submitted to the house public accounts committee, two by-elections will be called within six months, unless a general provincial election is in the offing. The committee sat at the request of Liberal members, who charged waste and extravagance in connection with government land and building transactions in Edmonton and Calgary. Evidence submitted to the committee showed that two members, John Charles Landeryou of Lethbridge and Roy S. Lee, taken constituency, are part-owners of a building being rented by the government.

Under the Legislative Assembly Act, persons holding such office with the government are ineligible to hold membership in the legislature. The two members, who said they did not realize this and had not been informed of any irregularities by their solicitors when the building was assigned to a holding company in trust for Mr. Landeryou and Mr. Lee and William McRobb, of Lethbridge, submitted their resignations to Mr. Speaker on Thursday afternoon and vacated their seats.

The committee was to meet this week to prepare the report it will submit to the legislature on the evidence received in the 12 hours it sat on three different days hearing witnesses. On one day the committee, which actually is composed of all members of the legislature, sat 6 3/4 hours.

Mr. Landeryou, a former Social Credit member of parliament for Calgary East, has been a legislative member since 1944, while Mr. Lee has been in the legislature since 1940. They said they had never talked of their interest in the building to members of the government prior to acquiring it or after.

Immediately after the resignation, Premier Manning read to the house a written statement, in which he said the government did not know, until the committee heard the evidence that the two members held an interest in the building as private citizens and not as members of a company.

The committee was told the building, which is in Edmonton and was purchased by the government in 1948 for $75,000, was sold to Charles Hobeck, president of Canada West Insurance Co. for $64,000 last year. It also was stated that Mr. Hobeck, finding himself in financial difficulties, assigned the building over to the holding company which held it in trust for the two members and the third party. Mr. Landeryou and Mr. Lee are managing director, respectively of Canada West.

Both members say they will contest the by-elections which will be called. The government has been renting the building pending the completion of a new highways building in Edmonton.

In connection with the other transaction, Arthur Arnold, deputy minister of public works, defending the government's action. One involved the purchase of a large building on Edmonton's main street for $225,000, only a short while after it had been bought for $175,000. The committee was told renovations and improvements to the building have cost about $500,000.

The deputy minister said it is now a "million-dollar building." It was also brought out that a site for a

From Our Own Correspondent

Last Monday night the junior-senior banquet of MVBC was held in the dining room. It was a most successful occasion. Edward Oke president of the junior class was master of ceremonies. His committee did an excellent job in preparing the menu, programme and decorations. The junior's motto for the seniors was "Vessels unto Honor." The decorations followed this idea. Rev. Bob Simpson was the guest speaker for the evening. His message was most challenging. Mrs. Simpson also was a guest. Selections in song were given throughout the evening and Earl Reimer in his usual efficient manner produced prophesies concerning the future of the seniors which if carried out would be most interesting indeed. A turkey dinner was served under the auspices of the juniors. Six high school girls served and Miss Zook supervised the kitchen. The seniors will not soon forget the interest, enthusiasm and good wishes of the juniors.

Tuesday evening was also a night of entertainment in that Prof. Peter Waldin who directed a scout group for some years planned a banquet for the parents and scouts. Mr. Crowhurst from Calgary was the guest speaker on the occasion. Awards were given to those who scored them and demonstrations of scout skill were given. A sumptuous meal was served. Miss Zook again supervised and a number of young ladies served. Mr. Waldin is to be commended on his years of service to many young men of the community.

Last Friday the A Capella choir wended its way to Edmonton, they stopped at Red Deer to give their concert in the C.N.C. Chapel. They sang in various churches and on Saturday night they had full charge of the Youth for Christ meeting. President Taylor was the guest speaker on that occasion. The Monday classes have been lifted so that they will have more time to return. Miss Walsh and Mrs. Taylor and the children accompanied them.

Your correspondent has experienced a distressing eye infection and is at present in the local hospital. Each morning as she awakens a sense of deep gratitude forbids any discouragement. Deep appreciation for a good Doctor, nurses and aides who gladly care for her and the prayers of the church and college is felt day after day.

Rev. A. Traub, Mrs. Ray Shantz, Mrs. Edna Eby and Mrs. Hedegard are filling in as substitute teachers while Mrs. Eby herself tutors one class from her hospital bed. Her gratitude for all the kind assistance given knows no bounds. May I say that the eye is rapidly improving and we trust that there shall be no injury to it. Even this news item is dictated and Miss Wilda Siemens has written it out most carefully for reading pleasure.

Will be seeing you next week.

government liquor store was purchased in Calgary for $46,000, while in the same block a chain store company bought the same amount of land for $36,750, including three houses, one of which was sold for $3,000 to be moved.

Witnesses called by the opposition stated that the amounts spent by the government for jail sites in the Calgary area were too high, while witnesses called by the government defended the action. One of the witnesses, a salty real-estate man 44 years in the business, in answering questions on farm land values, contended: "The only guy trying to bring them down is the politician trying to get into."
